

Lancaster Introduction by David Lewis

Exerts from the introduction to “The Lancaster’s 300 Years in America,” by Baynard Lancaster Teigan. Written 1984

Arriving in the earliest years of American colonization, the first proven Lancaster to come to America was Robert Lancaster of Lawnes Creek Parish in Surry County, Virginia. He was probably a very young man at the time he arrived in America. It is feasible that his passage costs were paid by another person as was often the custom at that time.

In the earliest Patent Books for Virginia there are several references to Lancaster men whose passage was paid by another. This system of paying the coasts of transportation from the old country to America was called Headrights. Any man who paid the passage way for another man, woman, or child was allowed 50 acres of unclaimed land per person. This system accomplished two purposes; it brought in settlers by the hundreds and provided a means of obtaining land in the colonies.

After 50 years of research on this Lancaster family, the earliest record which has been located of any Lancaster in the southern Tidewater area of Virginia was that of the proven progenitor, Robert Lancaster. It should be noted that in this earliest record his surname is spelled Lancashear. This document is entered in the first Great Book of Surry County, Virginia records and is dated 7 November 1652. This document is a petition which Robert Lancashear and 70 other men signed; it is registered in the original court records for Surry County.

No other record for Robert Lancaster has been discovered between the petition of 1652 and a court record dated 1677 which shows that he served on a jury for the County of Surry. This record is interesting in that any person who served on a jury at that time was required to be a land owner, yet no deed or tas record has been located prior to 1678, a year following the jury service.

Robert Lancaster and his family lived in Lawnes Creek Parish in the southern section of Surry County, Virginia. Recorded on page 135 of the first deed and will book of Surry County is the earliest record of Robert Lancaster’s purchase of land. This land transaction was made on 2 March 1679; at that time Robert bought 150 acres from William Lyle. This property was on the Blackwater Swamp which is the natural border between Surry and Isle of Wight Counties.

The Lancaster family remained in the southeastern section of Virginia for over 100 years. Sometime during or following the Revolutionary War, some members of the family began migrating into North Carolina.

The earliest deed for a Lancaster in Dobbs County, North Carolina is dated 9 December 1776 but not recorded until 11 years later at the January term of court in 1787. This deed is number 214. Joshua Davis of Dobbs County, North Carolina deed to William Lancaster of Dobbs County (Wayne County was not created until 1779) on 9 December 1776 460 Acres in Dobbs County on the north side of Nauhunta Swamp.

About the start of the 19th century the Lancaster's started moving again. Although many Lancaster families remain in North Carolina, a large number of these families moved westward. A large number moved into Indiana and from there have scattered throughout the states.

Lancaster's into North Carolina

By Dave Lewis

William Lancaster, born March 22, 1732 in Surry County, Virginia may have been the first Lancaster of this family to make the move into North Carolina. William had been living in North Carolina prior to January 7, 1758. He is mentioned in Surry County, Virginia deed book 7, page 402 which states that William Lancaster of North Carolina, grandson of Robert Lancaster, Jr. deeded property which had been purchased by Robert Lancaster, Jr. in 1712. This valuable information firmly establishes proof that William was the grandson of Robert Lancaster, Jr. and the son of the deceased Samuel Lancaster.

Church records indicate William and his family were members of the Society of Friends called Quakers living in Northampton County, North Carolina in 1767. Further church records from Dobbs County, North Carolina (now Wayne County) show that William Lancaster, wife and children were received on certificated from Northampton County, dated "5th day of 6th month 1772."

William's brothers, Micajah, Samuel and Levi had followed him to North Carolina as indicated by deed record of Bertie, Halifax and Warren Counties in addition to Northampton. The Lancaster's were later to move into Edgecombe, Craven and Carteret Counties.

Jesse Lancaster, Jr., born November 26, 1812 in Craven County was the first Lancaster to reside in Brunswick County. Moving here from Craven County, North Carolina sometime around 1848 and settling in the Varnamtown area as proved by Brunswick County deed book O, page 491. Purchasing a 190 acre track of land from the State of North Carolina signed on October 7, 1848.

Notes for Robert Lancaster Sr.:

Robert was probably born in England as early as 1635 although there are some reports having him born aboard ship between England and America. The name of Robert's first wife is not known; most feasibly, his first wife was also the mother of his children. His wife at his death was Sarah Bennett, widow of Richard Bennett.

The S.S. A sea struck the starboard bow with a hammer-like blow causing the cargo to shift. The vessel listed 25 degrees to port and engines were then stopped. The list progressively increased with the stack taking water. The crew abandoned the vessel by walking and jumping into the sea. By 0945 hrs, the vessel rolled over on the port side and sank stern first. Of the 48 persons comprising the crew of the Mormackite, 37 perished, mostly by drowning and exposure, and 11 survived. Among those who lost their lives was the Mormackite's Master, Patrick J. McMahon. The S.S. Makadonia picked up the first survivor at 0728 hrs., October 9. The Monroe Victory was also involved in the attempted "rescue" of survivors.
